

Tim Wilson

Tim Wilson is the Federal Liberal Member for Goldstein.

He formally served as Australia's Human Rights Commissioner. He worked with the government to reform laws to stop and prevent terrorism, improving economic opportunities for indigenous Australians as well as standing up for marginalised communities from public harassment. Tim is also an advocate for protecting free speech and religious freedom.

He has a Bachelor of Arts (Policy Studies) at Monash University as well as a Masters of Diplomacy and Trade (International Trade) from the Monash Graduate School of Business.

Tim and his fiancée Ryan are passionate supporters and members of the Melbourne Football Club.
