

ELENA HATTERSLEY

Elena joined CIS in late April 2000 as Development Officer. After completing a Master of Arts (Psychology) at the University of Sydney, Elena spent the next couple of years working and travelling in Europe, Asia and South America. She is happy to be back in Sydney and is excited about her new role.

WOLFGANG KASPER

A long-time associate and author for CIS, Wolfgang Kasper has joined the CIS team to research on a more regular basis. Emeritus Professor of Economics at the University of New South Wales, his main areas of interest are economic policy, international trade, capital flows and payments, and the economies of East Asia.

ANDREW NORTON

Former editor of Policy, Andrew re-joined CIS in January 2000 as director of the new Liberalising Learning research programme. Andrew left CIS in 1997 to become an advisor on higher education policy to the federal minister for Education, Training and Youth Affairs, Dr David Kemp.

LEONIE PETERSON

Leonie joined CIS in December 1999 as the part-time Financial Controller. After living in the United States for 18 years, she returned to Australia with her family in 1995. With an M.B.A in Finance from California State University (Hayward) and a B.A (Econ.) from Macquarie University, Leonie has extensive accounting and administration experience in business, government, public practice and the not-for-profit sectors both in Australia and the U.S. Her challenge at CIS over the next few months is the smooth transition to the New Tax System.

SUSAN WINDYBANK

Susan joined CIS in March 2000 as Editor of Policy and other CIS publications. Having graduated from Sydney University with a Masters degree in international studies, she was keen to pursue a career in the 'ideas business'. Susan has a solid background in publishing and marketing/public relations. She has also travelled widely, mainly in Latin America and Europe, and maintains a keen interest in international affairs, particularly strategic issues.

departures

ANNABEL DAY has left CIS to work for Amnesty International's fundraising department in Scotland. CIS Development Officer since September 1999, Annabel has excelled at improving the Centre's financial support base. She was also Greg's personal assistant for nine months in 1998. CIS wishes her all the best in her new venture.

Congratulations...

Congratulations to Jennifer Buckingham on her marriage to Scott Chapman. Jennifer and Scott got married in their home town, Raymond Terrace, NSW on April 15.

